BAKER, Professor Alfred June, 1919 (025)

June 18th, 1919

Professor Alfred Baker, M.A.,

University of Toronto.

Dear Professor Baker:

Yesterday I received your letter placing in my hands the resignation of your offices as Professor of Mathematics and Dean of the Faculty of Arts to take effect next June. I will bring your letter before the Board of Governors at its next meeting and will endeavour to have that upon your wishes with regard to the payment of the honorarium.

I do not know that it will be a fitting response to you, as it will also be to a multitude of graduates of this University, to measure the long and very efficient service that you have given to this University; a service the value of which has been greatly enhanced by the spirit of affection that you have won for your life's work. You have had much to do with the part in that a Memorial New Institute in your name privileged to set during your long tenure of office. With kind regards and the hope that together your private duties with the University have caused that we shall yet continue to see you in the University itself and at our various [illegible], both private and public.

Yours sincerely,

President.
